Employment Assist

We know that it's hard for businesses to keep up with the constant changes to Employment Law and too often employers get caught out by the cost of unexpected employment claims. With Employment Assist we're here for you when it matters the most, so when you have an employment law query all you need to do is call our expert team for support and guidance. In recent years there has been an unprecedented increase in the number of accepted tribunal claims, which could easily cost your business around £5000 each to defend. How would your business cope with this level of unbudgeted expenditure?

Here to Help

With Employment Assist your business can relax, safe in the knowledge that when an employment law query arises you can simply pick up the phone to an expert. We'll help remove the stress from those sometimes difficult and awkward situations.

Employment Assist is also backed by a leading insurer giving you built in cover all for an affordable fixed annual fee. Employment Assist will protect your bottom line against unexpected and unbudgeted employment claims, leaving you covered from potentially significant financial exposure.
