

Making a Claim

Accidents will happen, but they may not always be your fault. Illness and injury can affect you both physically and financially, taking its toll on your well-being, limiting your activity and in many cases resulting in loss of earnings. This is why our specialist solicitors are here to help.

The first step

Through an initial free assessment of your case either by telephone or in person, we can suggest the best course of action and its likely timescale. This may be at our Accident Claim Centre in Chesterfield, at any of our offices or a place convenient to you.

No win, no fee

In most cases we will pursue compensation claims on a "no win, no fee" basis. However, we will consider all possible methods of funding, including legal expenses insurance, trade union funding and private fee agreements. The chances are that you will be contacted by a claims handler looking to represent you, particularly if your claim has gone through an insurer. They may suggest that you must choose them or their panel solicitor to represent you, however this is not the case, and you are free to select a solicitor of your choice.

What can you claim for?

You will normally be entitled to claim for:
Your pain and suffering

- Past and future loss of earnings
- Travelling and parking costs
- Medication and treatment costs
- Pension losses
- Care and services
- Legal and other fees involved in pursuing of your claim

Additional Support

If you have been seriously injured in an accident, we will do everything within our power to ensure you have easy access to additional support and advice on issues such as employment, benefits and welfare rights. We can also consider whether interim payments of compensation may be available to relieve financial pressures and cover immediate expenses. We can also assist by arranging any rehabilitation you may require to help with the recovery process.

Types of claims

Our specialised team of Personal Injury Solicitors, recommended in The Legal 500, has represented clients in claims resulting from all types of incidents and conditions including road traffic accidents, work-related accidents and illness.

Road traffic accidents

This is one of the most common types of claims. If you or a family member have been unfortunate enough to obtain an injury as a result of a road traffic accident that was no fault of your own, please get in touch.

Slips and trips

If you have been seriously injured in an accident, we will do everything within our power to ensure you have easy access to additional support and advice on issues such as employment, benefits and welfare rights. We can also consider whether interim payments of compensation may be available to relieve financial pressures and cover immediate expenses. We can also assist by arranging any rehabilitation you may require to help with the recovery process.

Accidents at work

It's ironic that workplaces can be the very reason for employee absence. If you've been injured whilst at work, compensation can go a long way to ease the burden, but you need the right solicitor for the job.

Work-related illness

If you are suffering from a work-related illness often known as an industrial disease the you may be entitled to compensation. If you are seriously ill, we can even offer home visits if required.

Medical negligence

Medical accidents and mistakes can occur under both the NHS and private healthcare organisations. If this happens to you and is due to incompetent care or lack of judgement by a healthcare professional, it may be possible to make a claim for medical negligence compensation.

Defective products

If using a defective product has resulted in ill health, whether physical or emotional, we're here to help you get through it and receive suitable compensation
